Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

Published Every Weekday Afternoon.

Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 17, 1903.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

2,623

Down in Massachusetts they observed the battle of Bunker Hill today. While it is perhaps distinctively a Massachusetts holiday the whole country is not debarred from commemorating the event.

It makes no difference what the nationality is, there is always a good word and a complimentary word for all from President Roosevelt. The nationalities pass before him in endless succession. First it is the Irish, then it is the Jew, now it is the German. This adaptability of our president is one of the strong features of the administration.

The report that Alexander and Draga, late king and queen of Serbia, carried $400,000 insurance on their lives is no confirmation of the rumor that they were killed so that the insurance money might be distributed among the co-revolutionists. Blood and the heads of royalty were what the revolutionists were after and they certainly got what they went after, even to King Peter who ascends a blood-stained throne.

"Curfew shall not ring tonight," yell the defiant archons of St. Albans. "Curfew shall ring tonight," declares the astute city council of that city. And back comes the challenge from the St. Albans Messenger, "Curfew shall ring tonight, so long as the law stands." The Messenger is right. So long as the law is on the books see to it that its provisions are enforced, but meanwhile lose no time in repealing an odious and useless ordinance. It is a commendable thing to look after the small children and keep them off the streets, but it seems that there are better ways of doing it.

In order to fit the punishment for the crime, a Philadelphia pickpocket, a scion of a wealthy and reputable family, has been declared "ineligible" for Philadelphia society. Outside of that the criminal goes scot-free. What a farce. What a punishment for the acknowledged-to-be-guilty pickpocket that he should be deprived of the opportunity of passing in Philadelphia "society," to be deprived of having the loggnettes of the elderly dames levelled at him in admiration of the latest cut of his clothes. They might have sentenced him to a term of years in the penitentiary but to have heaped this ignominy on him was the last straw.

Not a few peans of rejoicing will ascend into the heavens as the result of the decision of the anthracite coal miners yesterday that there shall not be a strike in the mines. To have passed through one long winter with the price of our fuel soaring skyward and then to have had the promise of a similar experience, was something that could scarcely be received with tranquility. The reality of the thing was a little too strong. Therefore the decision that there would be no strike was particularly pleasing. In the discussions that have been reported, the dominating influence of one man, John Mitchell, has been one of the most noticeable features. John Mitchell may be called the miners' union in himself.

The Americans are a nation of curiosity-seekers, or were those thousand of people who flocked to see the old Liberty Bell on its way from Philadelphia to Boston.

prompted by a feeling of patriotism? However much the characteristic of curiosity dominates the American mind we are constrained to believe that it was not entirely the desire to see a relic that drew those thousands of people to the various stations along the route. It was in a spirit of veneration for a thing that played a prominent part in the Revolutionary history of the country that many went to see, and the old piece of metal received such an applause as men would go a long way and do much to receive.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

George Foss of East Roxbury, found a one cent piece near his home Friday which was washed up during the recent rains. The penny was coined just 100 years ago and is in a fine state of preservation.

The Hon. Mason S. Stone, who has been in the Philippines during the past year in charge of educational work, arrived in Morrisville Saturday evening and will pass a few weeks there the guest of Miss Carrie Chase.

One of the sixth commencement speakers at Yale chosen from the senior class for the graduating exercises of Friday afternoon, is Joseph Fairbanks of St. Johnsbury. His topic will be "The United States in European Politics."

W. J. Fisk of Northfield is the owner of a three-year-old heifer which on May 28 gave birth to a nice heifer calf and on June 10 gave birth to another equal to it; all are alive and doing well. Since the second birth she has nearly doubled her flow of milk.

Emile Kleslich, aged 29, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kleslich of Burlington, had four fingers and a thumb blown off by the explosion of a dynamite cartridge Saturday. Young Kleslich was showing a crowd of boys what a fine noise a stick of dynamite would make when it exploded. He was warned by his brother and others that it was exceedingly dangerous to fool with the explosive but the young man did not care.

The hedgehog bill passed by the last legislature has cost the state $2,000 up to date. The returns to State Auditor Graham by the town clerks show that nearly 7,000 of the fretful porcupines have been killed for the 30 cent bounty. The number killed by counties is, Addison 653, Bennington 196, Caledonia 337, Chittenden 1061, Essex 7, Franklin 8, Lamolle 287, Orange 370, Orleans 33, Rutland 805, Washington 529, Windham 434, Windsor 1353, total 6673. Roxbury is the banner town in Washington county with a record of 252 killed; Topsham is the banner town in Orange county with 90 killed. The number of foxes reported killed is 5,015; lynx 74; bears 49. Washington county's record for foxes is 294, for bear 7, and lynx 1.

Summer Enchantment.

Oh, de lazy bird is singin' every evenin' in de tree!
I dunno if you hyuns him, but his song is sweet to me.
Dey say dat he's a toad or sumpin' of de insect kind.
But "lazy bird" de name foh him dat sorter suits my mind.
He got a voice dat soun' like fairies playin' in 'ou de life.
He hab a chahm dat some folks can't resist to save deir life.
Yeh soul is filled wif comfort an' f'm care yeh heart's free
When once yeh hyuns dat lazy bird a-singin' in de tree.

He sings about de roses dat is blushin' day by day;
He singe about de twilight dat is hangin' on de bay;
He makes you feel so happy dat you wants it understood
If June is much like heaven you is willin' to be good.
You fohgets about de snowstorm, you fohgets about de frost;
You fohgets de disappointments an' de chances you has lost.
Dis world has its discomforts, but it's good enough foh me
When once I hyuns dat lazy bird a-singin' in de tree.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

A Query.
"Now good digestion wait on appetite!" Is apt, but always makes one ask the question,
"Is there no balm for that unhappy wight Whose appetite's too good for his digestion?"
—Chicago Tribune.

Just to Make Trouble.
"So she's going to be married?"
"Yes."
"But I thought she always posed as a man hater."
"Well, perhaps that's the reason."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Achievement.
She went to cooking school and paid For knowledge how to boil and bake. Her biscuits heavy were as lead; Her husband tasted them and said, "The kind that mother couldn't make."
—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Patient Man.
We all admire the patient man And vow his methods are the best. But while we praise we oftentimes Impose on him like all the rest.
—Washington Star.

The Unexpected.
"Has Mrs. Jones heard from her missing husband?"
"Oh, yes; he mysteriously appeared."
—Chicago Record-Herald.

In the Swim.
Though moths have spoiled my picnic suit, My oxford ties not up to par; I'll still remain a gay galsot; I have my last year's banana.
—New York Times.

A Question.

Husband—Have you much shopping to do today?
Wife—I don't know. How much money have you got?

Arranging Flowers.
There is a great deal in arranging flowers to bring out their beauty. Never crowd them. A few stems, with foliage, can be made far more beautiful and artistic than a crowded mass.

Kurds Taking Up Arms.

Cologne, Rhinish Prussia, June 16.—The Kurds are taking up arms in Kurdistan, according to a dispatch to the Cologne Gazette from Constantinople. The dispatch adds that the United States minister, British ambassador and German charge d'affaires have made representations to the port regarding recent occurrences at Kharpur, where the arrest of Armenian teachers and domiciliary visits to the houses of Armenians have caused a panic.

Odell Frees a Murderess.

Albany, N. Y., June 16.—Governor Odell has commuted the sentence and ordered the release of Emie E. Wemple, sentenced for life in 1870 from Cattaraugus county for the murder by poison of her husband, Nelson Cool, convicted of aiding in the crime, died in prison. Mrs. Wemple has served, with allowance of good behavior, the equivalent of forty-six years.

Ship Trust Case Postponed.

Trenton, N. J., June 16.—The application for a receiver for the United States Shipbuilding company went over for a week in the United States circuit court. The matter did not formally come before the court. It is understood that the adjournment is for the purpose of giving the defendants more time to prepare an answer to the application for a receiver.

Shamrock III. In Erie Basin.

New York, June 16.—The yacht Shamrock III., in tow of the tug Charles E. Matthews and the steam yacht Erin, has arrived at the Erie basin, where the yacht is to be overhauled and refitted.

SIRE AND SONS.

"Governor" John Robinson, the veteran circus man, has offered to build a church in Cincinnati in memory of his daughter, Katie.

Ex-Congressman F. M. Eddy, who may be a candidate for governor of Minnesota, used to be called the home-liest man in the house at Washington and didn't get mad.

Edward A. Caraway, now a government police officer at the Charlestown navy yard, has just begun the fifty-second year of his service as an employee of the navy department.

Mayor Hiram M. Summers of Ottawa, O., has published a notice offering a number of prizes to the persons who will maintain the best kept gardens and lawns in the town this summer.

With a checked suit, tan shoes and a red banded straw hat British Ambassador Herbert earned from a Washington street car conductor the other day oburgation as one of "them dudes."

J. B. Pierpont, mayor of Wheaton, Ill., has served in that capacity for twenty-one consecutive years. During that time few candidates have appeared in the field against him, and none of them ever stood the slightest chance of success.

In his last will Dr. Ladislaus Jasinski, a leading physician of Lemberg, Galicia, bequeathed £13,000 to a fund for assisting widows of doctors and ordained at the same time that not more than 8 shillings should be spent on his funeral.

Dr. A. Garcelon of Lewiston, a former governor of Maine, voted for Andrew Jackson for president, felt young enough to offer for enlistment when the Spanish war came on, and, though past his ninetieth birthday, is still hale in body and as alert mentally as ever.

Dr. John S. McGrew of Honolulu, known as the father of Hawaiian annexation, has come to the United States for an extended tour. He was born in Ohio over eighty years ago, but still practices his profession. This is his first absence from Hawaii in twenty-seven years.

GOWN GOSSIP.

Almost as popular as washable shirt waist suits are the linen and crash two piece walking suits.

Many of the new bathing suits have high stock collars and long sleeves. Apparently sunburned throats and arms are out of fashion.

The word comes from Paris that foulard, except for shirt waist suits, will not be worn at all next season. Tussocks are the coming silks.

Mohair melange, as its name indicates, is a two toned mixture and is an attractive fabric for light weight woolen gowns. It comes in blue and white, green and white and pepper and salt.

The woman of limited income wisely makes one or two of her summer gowns with two waists, one high for afternoon wear and the other low for evening. The same materials are often used for both occasions.

One can hardly go wrong in making a gown to be worn after this summer with a full skirt. Gores are rapidly going out. Tailored gowns have them still, but more elaborate frocks are nearly all failed in some way or other.
—New York Post.

Knives and Pointers.

It is said that the raw potato has an acid that not only keeps the knife blade clean, but actually preserves its sharpness.

The Style of a "Dorothy Dodd"

Let us assume that your Shoes fit you. Now what next? What is most important? Unquestionably style. Demand that a Shoe shall possess style. If it has style and little else, you want it. If it has not style, but everything else, you don't want it. The Style of a "Dorothy Dodd" is unique. It cannot be duplicated by any other maker, because the "Dorothy Dodd" is a totally different construction from any other ladies' Shoe made. It holds the foot firmly at the waist—that's the instep—and prevents the toes from slipping forward, thus giving a correct poise in walking. Yet it makes the foot look nearly a whole size smaller. That's curious, and you won't believe it till you see it. Just for once try the Style of a "Dorothy Dodd." Sincerely yours,
